

Our Need

As Transitional Youth moves forward to house, feed, educate, and employ multiple youth at a time, we need all the support you can provide. In addition to financial contributions which are welcomed, we require everyday items such as clothing and daily living supplies to maintain positive momentum. Financial contributions will help:

- Continue our outreach to youth on the streets.
- Further develop "Home on the Range," an intermediary rural ranch home environment that supports youth in their transition from street life to home life and ultimate independence.
- Ensure that our residential homes have enough funding and operational capital to assist in meeting the high demand.
- Be able to accommodate smaller, ongoing daily living expenses, such as Tri-Met bus passes, appropriate job interview clothing, and educational supplies costs.

We welcome the following donation items:

New and used men's and women's clothing in sizes M - XXL: jackets, sweatshirts, gloves, socks, underwear

Weather protection: stocking caps, blankets, wool socks, sleeping bags, rain gear

Toiletries: shampoo, disposable razors, toothbrushes, toothpaste

Work and school supplies: notebooks, calendars, backpacks, resource books

Gift certificates to: movie stores, music stores, department stores, coffee shops
